

UpSkill Charlotte

The UpSkill Charlotte training grant helps businesses make a difference in their bottom line by addressing employees' skills gaps. Employers can qualify for funds to provide training for their existing workers so they can improve their skills and move into better career opportunities.

When should an employer utilize the UpSkill Charlotte employee training grant?

When a business has employees they want to train and promote, which will allow them to backfill those positions with less-skilled employees.

Which employees will benefit most from this grant?

Those who:

- Need to upgrade their skills and knowledge to retain their current job; OR
- Need to gain new skills and knowledge so they qualify for a different job with their employer.

Other Benefits

The training provides a significant step towards achieving an industry- or applicant-recognized certification or credential that increases an employee's overall skill-set and the employer's viability in the marketplace.
